M. ROUVIER RESIGNS.

Remainder of the French Ministry Does Likewise.

IS DUE TO DEPUTIES

Defeat of the Government Resulted From a Minor Debate That Was Caused by the Matter of Church Disorders.

Paris, March 8.—Like a bolt from a clear sky, the Rouvier ministry was defeated in the chamber of deputies Wednesday, and immediately resigned. The cabinet crisis comes at a most dramatic moment, when the Franco-German contest has reached a decisive stage, and may exert an important adverse influence on the Algerian conference and on European affairs.

The defeat of the government came on a comparatively minor debate over the church disorders. The government succeeded in holding only 234 votes, while the various elements in opposition, Clericals, Socialists and Nationalists, united and polled 267 new votes, thus placing the ministry in the minority of thirty-three.

Premier Rouvier with a. of his colleagues proceeded to the foreign office where a joint letter of resignation was prepared.

Later M. Rouvier presented the statement to President Fallieres, who accepted the resignation.

The president announced his intention of consulting the presidents of the senate and chamber of deputies relative to the formation of a new cabinet.

NOT TO TESTIFY.

Armstrong Says Committee Will Make No Effort to Hear Hamilton.

Albany, March 8.—Senator Armstrong, chairman of the insurance investigating committee, said that the committee would make no attempt to call Andrew Hamilton, the life insurance legislative agent, before it. The return of Hamilton to his home was the chief topic of conversation throughout the city. He denied himself to newspaper men and had nothing to say for publication.

Hiram R. Steele, a member of the New York life insurance house cleaning committee, otherwise known as the Fowler committee, said that Hamilton's return would mean the speedy bringing of suits for the return of nearly $1,000,000 spent by Hamilton while he was employed by the New York Life to watch legislation and taxation.

President Orr, Secretary McCall, Vice President Kingsley, and other executive officers of the New York Life, held a private meeting Wednesday.

GOES UP FOR LIFE.

Dr. Bush Given That Punishment by the Trial Jury.

Shreveport, March 8.—Dr. Albert R. Bush of Bossier parish, was convicted of murder in the district court Wednesday and given a life term in the penitentiary. Public feeling against Bush has been intense ever since the crime. In December last, Bush and his eighteen-year-old son, Madden, came to Shreveport, and the former became intoxicated. He picked a quarrel with J. G. Guice, and called to his son, so it was at the time alleged, to shoot Guice. The son obeyed, firing two bullets into Guice's back, producing almost instant death.

On account of illness, the trial of the son was postponed until next term of court.

CLEVER RETORT.

Representative Sherman Doubtless Satisfied With Clayton's Answer.

Washington, March 9.—In the house Wednesday while Mr. Clayton of Alabama was securing the passage of a bill permitting the Chattahoochee Power company to construct a steel and cement dam across the Chattahoochee river at Newton, Ala., Mr. Sherman of New York facetiously inquired how the words "steel" and "dam" were spelled in the bill.

"It is good, clean steel with two e's and no 'n' on the dam," retorted Mr. Clayton. The bill was passed.

SPEED REMOVED.

Oklahoma United State District Attorney Is Out.

Washington, March 8.—President Roosevelt Wednesday removed from office Horace Speed, United States district attorney of Oklahoma, as a result of charges preferred against him. These charges were to the effect that he had entered into a contract with a certain county commissioner to render legal service and that he had improperly paid to that commissioner certain sums of money in connection with that employment. The charges were investigated by the department of justice and the president's action follows the report on that investigation.

BATTLE ON SHIPBOARD

Firemen Were Arrayed Against All of the Others.

ONE MAN WAS KILLED

Trouble, Growing Out of Complaint About Food, Started at Cardiff, Wales, and Culminated at Brooklyn.

New York, March 8.—A mutiny in which one life was lost occurred on board the steamer Massachusetts Thursday, lying at her docks at Brooklyn. James Slocum, a fireman, was killed during a revolver battle on the steamer's deck, in which the steamer's firemen were arranged on one side and opposing them were the ship's officers and members of the crew. The sounds of the fighting caused the reserve police to be hurried to the steamer, but the firemen, who started the trouble, had been driven into submission before the police arrived. Six members of the crew were arrested, as was also the first officer, Albert J. Evans, and the fourth officer, Elmer Kerwin. They are held as witnesses. Kerwin's home is at Baltimore.

The mutiny had been brewing, according to the officers of the Massachusetts, ever since the steamer left Cardiff, Wales. The firemen were the chief disturbers, it is alleged, making continual complaints about their food. The crew, however, sided with the officers. During the voyage from Cardiff there were almost daily fist fights on the steamer growing out of the sulky tempers of the two opposing factions. The wrangling continued after the Massachusetts arrived at Brooklyn several days ago. Some of the firemen spent Wednesday night in the city, and the quarrel began immediately on their return to the vessel Thursday.

The Massachusetts was scheduled to sail Thursday for San Francisco.

MATTERS CONFUSED.

Claimed Crisis Does Not Affect Policy of the Conference.

Paris, March 8.—The government finds itself without a ministry at the culminating stage of the Moroccan conference at Algiers.

A semi-official statement on the subject says: "The ministerial crisis does not affect the French policy at the conference." This is designed chiefly to warn Germany not to take advantage of the situation. The fact is that the ministerial hiatus confuses matters and threatens an agreement which otherwise might have been reached. The vote in the chamber of deputies Wednesday night, resulting in the defeat of the government and resignation of the cabinet, also requires that the government temporize with the church manifestants, who are becoming increasingly demonstrative, particularly the peasants.

President Fallieres Thursday began a series of consultations relative to the formation of a new ministry. He first conferred lengthily with M. Dubost, president of the senate, and later received M. Dumer, president of the chamber of deputies. No announcement of the president's course of action was made up to noon Thursday, but the names most mentioned were those of Leon Bourgeois, the premier; Alexander E. Miller and former Minister of Commerce Raymond Poincare, former Minister of Public Works and Senator Clemenceau. There was some talk also of M. Delcasse, former foreign minister, who is supported by the Anglo-French, but his appointment was deemed impossible owing to German hostility to him.

Rentes went off 20 centimes, but recovered, showing that operators on the bourse were not seriously disturbed by the resignation of the cabinet.

AFTER NEXT CONVENTION.

Delegation of Texas Odd Fellows Will Go to Toronto.

Dallas, March 8.—Texas grand lodge of Odd Fellows voted to send a delegation to the 1906 meeting of the sovereign grand lodge, to be held at Toronto, Canada. That body will be urged to hold its 1907 meeting at some Texas city. Subordinate lodges in various cities of the state will aid the movement at once.

FAVORS TWO STATES.

McCumber Wants Oklahoma and Indian Territory Separate.

Washington, March 8.—In the senate Thursday Senator McCumber spoke on the statehood bill, creating one state of Oklahoma and another of Indian Territory, the latter under the name of Sequoia in honor of the Cherokee scholar of that name, and entirely eliminating New Mexico and Arizona. He made an argument against consolidation of the territories into fewer states, contending that more western states were necessary to give agricultural and other transmississippi interests stronger representation in congress.

THE MORNING EAGLE

Entered at the Postoffice as second class mail matter.

BY CARNES & WALLACE.

BRYAN, TEXAS, MARCH 9, 1906

Every dollar put into good roads promotes general prosperity.

Miss Texas will soon don her new spring apparel—green with floral trimmings and foliage.

Rev. George Stuart, who is conducting a meeting in Houston, will begin a meeting in Navasota April 1st.

Wherever you go speak a good word for our schools. All of them are worthy of your earnest and active support at home and abroad.

The Eagle has several times called attention to the fact that Bryan needs more well located business houses, and the need is growing daily. It would be a fine thing also if the property owners would improve the appearance of many we have. Another good thing would be to do away with swinging signs and either abolish the awnings or make them more uniform in appearance.

and in a bulletin issued by the college, that it was a mistake for Texas growers to go to the Eastern States and northern edge of the cotton belt for early cotton to escape weevils. That such imported seed was no earlier in making fruit than seed properly selected from Texas native big boll cottons. That the imported seed had smaller bolls and were not storm proof like Texas cottons. Prof. Bennett, from his work, pointed out how and why a plant fruits early, rapidly, and matures early, and if this had been known to Texas growers, they would have been saved the expense of importing seed from the East and North. With this ascertained information a grower can recognize early plants in the field at picking time, and from such plants select his planting seed and thereby better escape weevils and other insects and at the same time increase his yields at no other cost than that of picking the seed for planting. Unquestionably the breeding of an earlier and more productive cotton offers the surest escape from weevils and other insects. Cultivation, of course, is necessary for any yield, with or without insects, and the better the cultivation, the better the crop. This any man knows, but a better cotton, with better cultivation, will make still more profits.

Prof. Bennett says that good planting seed is the best and surest inducement for a grower to give better cultivation to his crops. The man who pays $15 to $25 for a good breeding pig will give it good attention—better attention than to his old scrubs. He cannot afford to do otherwise, and besides, he knows good pigs will return increased profits for any extra attention. Also he has more pride in his good cotton seed, and that fact enables him to unconsciously and uncomplainingly give good treatment and good cultivation. Good seed, therefore, yields a profit both in money and pleasure. But the production or the breeding of a better cotton or the selection of seed cannot be done intelligently unless a grower knows the factors in the plant that control earliness, rapid fruiting and productivity. These factors have been worked out by Prof. Bennett, and from them he has arranged a standard scale of qualities that every cotton must have if it be early, rapid fruiting and productive. This is all purely original work and the importance of such a standard is evident. Without it a grower who wants to buy seed has no scale with which to measure the advertised claims of any cotton that may be offered him by dealers. He can only take the dealer's say-so as to the merits of the cotton, and has to buy the seed and grow them before he can know their merits. But with the ascertained standard of qualities the buyer can demand of the seller of the so-called improved cotton that he guarantee on his reputation, or otherwise, that the seed have qualities as specified by the standard scale of qualities known to both the buyer and seller. In the live stock industry, breeding, buying and selling or judging are done by a standard scale of qualities. If one take the standard for the beef animal and that for the dairy animal and teach them to a man who never saw either animal, he will be able to select or distinguish the one from the other. This very fact of a standard of qualities has developed the beef animal, the race horse, the draft horse, etc.

The corn growing industry in the North has in recent years been given a great impetus by the work of scientists in determining from investigations a standard scale of points for judging corn for greater productivity, etc. Prof. Bennett expects an equal development to take place with cotton when growers come to understand the importance of this standard scale of qualities both in the buying of new seed and in the selection of planting seed by the grower from his own field.

In Bulletin No. 79, recently printed, Prof. Bennett has defined, from his two years' work, the qualities and factors which control early fruiting, rapid fruiting and productivity in the cotton plant, and the qualities that go to make up a standard scale. This scale is fully stated in the Bulletin, and with the several large half-tone illustrations, any one can understand and see its application and importance in production, in the buying of seed and as a guide in the selection of seed in the field by the farmer.

ket, Prof. Bennett says that there is little if any difference in productivity when good selected seed of any variety is used, and that not one of them produces what they should. These varieties differ mainly in unimportant details, such as short limbs, cluster, little boll, big boll, small seed, green seed, black seed and change of name by sellers. Cotton farmers have had no standard scale of qualities by which they could demand the best cotton, hence without any demand we have many varieties differing mainly in unimportant detail.

LITTLE POCKET PHYSICIAN.
Hyomei Inhaler that is Guaranteed by E. J. Jenkins to Cure Catarrh.
Thousands who have been cured by Hyomei call the inhaler that comes with every outfit "The little pocket physician," as it is so small that it can be carried in the pocket or purse.
Prior to the discovery of Hyomei statistics showed that at least 97 out of every 100 persons in this state were suffering from catarrh in some form. The remarkable results following the use of Hyomei are shown by the smaller percentage today of people suffering from catarrh.

There is really no excuse whatever for anyone having catarrh now that Hyomei is so readily obtainable. If you have any doubts about its value, E. J. Jenkins will let you have a complete outfit with the understanding that unless it cures catarrh, it will not cost you a cent.
A complete Hyomei outfit consists of "the little pocket physician," a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei, and costs only $1, while additional bottles of Hyomei can be procured for 50c, making it the most economical as well as the most reliable treatment for the cure of catarrh.

Do not delay longer the use of Hyomei if you have catarrh. This is a purely local disease, and Hyomei goes right to the spot where the catarrhal germs are present, destroys them, soothes and heals all inflammation, and makes a permanent and lasting cure.

SEIZURE MADE.
Twenty-Two Modern Rifles and Ten Thousand Rounds of Ammunition.
San Francisco, March 8.—The Examiner says: "Twenty-two" modern rifles and 10,000 rounds of ammunition were seized in the quarters of the Chinese crew on the Pacific steamer Mansechuria. The company's officials thereupon, it is said, made a thorough search of the ship, and this resulted in two more boxes being found in the room of the assistant engineer. Engineers and Chinese were questioned, and it was found the guns had been purchased in this city by engineer and smuggled aboard the vessel. The officials say they believe there are no more guns aboard, but this will not be known certain until the steamer on her arrival at Hongkong. Nothing is known as to how long smuggling of this character of goods has been going on or how many rifles have been sent in this way to China."
